

~~SECRET~~
Security Information

From Current Research in International Affairs

1. Cole, Allan B., Sino-Russian Border Problems Before 1860. Four researchers have collaborated on these articles and have brought together from Chinese, Russian and other European sources more information than hitherto has been analysed for publication concerning this topic. Considerable attention is given to background for the intensified diplomacy concerning the Amur and Primorsk territories; and an effort is made to relate but not to exaggerate the similarities between Tsarist and Soviet imperialism. In preparation. - Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy.
2. Butterfield, Paul T., Russia: Her Institutions and Her Revolution. The development of Russian institutions, law, government and religion. The transitional period from 1881 to the Soviet revolution and Soviet politics with emphasis on foreign policy. Indefinite. - Wayne Un. - Book.
3. Von Mohrenschildt, Dimitri, The Main Currents of Russian Social and Political Thought, 1860-1917. An attempt to analyze the main political and social ideologies in Russia and to trace their respective impacts, covering the period down to 1917. To be completed 1953. - Dartmouth College.
4. Christoff, Peter K., Nineteenth Century Russian Slavophilism: A Study in Thought and Ideas. A Study of the origin, nature and purport of Slavophil thought, orthodox and radical, from the 1830's to the 1860's. - Stanford Un.

From External Research Staff List

5. Walkin, Jacob, State and Society in Tsarist and Communist Russia. (Ph.D., Un. of Calif. In progress 7/30/51. *ECD - October 1951.)
6. Gajkowski, Anthony F., Russia Tsarist and Communist. (Book. Hist., St. Louis Un. Suspended July 1951.)
7. Fisher, Raymond H., Siberian Economic Development Under Tsarist and Soviet Rule. (Hist., Institution of Slavic Studies, UCLA. In progress June 1951)
8. Jelavich, Charles, Russian Foreign Policy in the Balkans in the Reign of Tsar Alexander III. (Book. Hist., Un. of Calif. In progress 7/30/51. ECD - 1953.)
9. Bergamini, John D., Russian Society in the 1670's and the Prospects for Social Revolution: Lavrov's Analysis in Vpered. (MA, Hist., Columbia. Completed.)

~~SECRET~~
Security Information

From External Research Staff List (Cont.)

10. O'Brien, Carl B., Russia and the West: Foreign Observers in the 16th and 17th Centuries. (Hist., Un. of Calif. in progress 7/30/51.)
11. Fisher, Raymond H., The Russian Radical Movement, 1790-1917: A Bibliography. (Hist., Un. of Calif. (UCLA) Suspended 7/30/51.)
12. O'Brien, Carl B., Russia Under Two Tsars: The Regency of Sophia Alexseevna, 1682-1689. (Hist., Un. of Calif. Completed.)
13. Basarab, John, The Campaign Against the Uniates in the Russian Empire Under Nicholas I. (MA, Hist., Columbia. Completed 1950.)
14. Miasanovsky, Nicholas V., Theory and Practice of Official Nationality in the Reign of Nicholas I of Russia, 1825-1855. (Book. Hist., State Un. of Iowa. In progress 7/30/51. ECD - Several years.)

~~SECRET~~
Security Information